'An opportunity to share your voice in school'

Dear Parents/Carers,

We would like to inform you that Loddon Primary School has decided to set up a 'Parent Forum' to give parents a further opportunity to get involved in the school. This forum is part of our school's ongoing development and our aim is to build an even stronger partnership with parents.

The intention of setting up the Parents' Forum is to provide a means whereby parental views are discussed and presented to Governors and to the school leadership team for consideration.

This is a fantastic opportunity for parents to engage with school life, offer feedback about school issues that matter to you, as well as to offer your views on future school plans and projects. The Forum will consist of a representative body of parents and will be run with the support of the Parent Support Advisor.

Representatives will play a vital community role, contributing to the development of the school and the well-being of all our pupils. The representatives' main tasks will be to communicate parents' views and ideas on a termly basis as well as to feedback to other parents notifying them of meeting outcomes.

We are calling out to all parents to come and help set up the new forum, if you are interested please complete the form below and return it to the school office no later than Friday 8th Jan 2016.

We look forward to working with you at the Parents' Forum.

Regards,

Sarah Phillips
